THE FAKIR (FREE DIGITAL NU-JAZZ)

A stage name tailored for Franck Dadure, French musician-producer ranging from sweet madness to brilliant inspiration. Under the a.k.a « The Fakir » Franck plays a tonic and unusual music based on electrified Turkish clarinet soprano sax & homemade theremin-Eiffel-Tower & senza-fuzz. Sophisticated grooves, orientalized melodies, sound effects and digitalized recordfields, free and creative improvisations which are reminiscent of a certain Burnt Friedman. From the strange atomic landscape of La Hague (France) until the mysterious depths of the Sultanahmet Cistern in Istanbul, a journey full of surprises through unexpected soundscapes and incandescent rhythms. A very good work, that devotes a rare ability to combine sound exploration and musical accessibility.

New album "Mélodies Lunatiques » (Signature Radio-France)

For this third album, produced this time in the studios of Radio France under the leadership of Bruno Letort, Franck Dadure (composition, Turkish clarinet, soprano sax, machines, keyboards, senza, Fx) was surrounded by Fabien Duscombs (drums), Daniel Zimmermann (trombone), Black Sifichi (voice), Smadj (oud), and Dj Click (Theremine & turntables). A surreal electro-acoustic and urban trip at the edge of free jazz, drum & bass, Orient-dub and spoken words.
